DEBTORS' 120th OMNIBUS OBJECTION TO CLAIM NOS. 7088 AND 7090
(Aircraft Owner Trustee Claims, Amounts Not Due)

THIS OBJECTION SEEKS TO DISALLOW AND EXPUNGE CERTAIN FILED
PROOFS OF CLAIM OF A SINGLE CLAIMANT. THE CLAIMANT RECEIVING THIS OBJECTION SHOULD LOCATE ITS NAME AND THE CLAIMS BELOW.

This Objection Relates to:

Claim Nos.: 7088 and 7090 (each a "Claim" and together, the "Claims")¹
Classification: Unsecured
Filed by: Wilmington Trust Company, not in its individual capacity
but as owner trustee (the "Claimant")
Tail Number(s): N622AA and N624AA
(each an "Aircraft" and together, the "Aircraft")

¹ Each ground for objection on pages 6-10 hereof applies to each claim.

AMR Corporation and its related debtors, as debtors and debtors in possession (collectively, the “Debtors”), hereby submit this objection (the “Objection”) to the above-referenced Proofs of Claim, and seek entry of an Order pursuant to section 502(b)(1) of Title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”), disallowing or reducing the Claims for the reasons stated herein.

I. Background and Jurisdiction

1. On November 29, 2011, each of the Debtors commenced with this Court a voluntary case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ plan of reorganization has tentatively been confirmed but has not taken effect pending the resolution of other matters.

2. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter under 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334 and Rule 3007 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

3. The Claims arise out of leveraged lease financing transactions. The typical features of a leveraged lease are described in Part II, and the Claims are described more fully in Part III. The grounds for objection to the Claims are set forth in Parts IV and V.

II. The Components of Leveraged Leases

4. A leveraged lease is a tax-driven financing structure. A typical leveraged lease transaction includes the following features:²

² As to the typical features of leveraged lease transactions and their purposes, see generally Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Delta Air Lines, Inc. (In re Delta Air Lines, Inc.), 608 F.3d 139, 142-143 (2d Cir. 2010); In re Northwest Airlines Corp., 393 B.R. 337, 340-341 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2008); Philip Morris Capital Corp. v. Kmart Corp., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 79531, *1-5 (N.D. Ill. 2007); Gen’l Foods Credit Corp. v. United Air Lines, Inc. (In re UAL Corp.), 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5422, *1-6 (N.D. Ill. 2007).

(a) The parties enter into a master agreement (called a “Participation Agreement”) that, among other things, specifies the roles of the parties and identifies the other agreements that are to be executed.

(b) The entity that is to be treated as the owner of an aircraft for income tax purposes (the “Owner Participant”) establishes a trust (the “Owner Trust”) to acquire the aircraft and to borrow some of the money needed to do so. A bank typically serves as the trustee (the “Owner Trustee”) of the Owner Trust, and the Owner Participant is the beneficial owner of the Owner Trust.

(c) The Owner Trust finances its acquisition of aircraft through (i) an equity contribution from the Owner Participant and (ii) borrowings from one or more lenders (the “Lenders”). In some transactions, a pass through trustee is used to facilitate the financing. The pass through trust purchases notes issued by the Owner Trust, which it acquires with the proceeds received from selling pass through certificates to investors. Those pass through certificates represent beneficial interests in the pass through trust.

(d) The Owner Trust enters into an aircraft lease (the “Lease”) with a lessee. Basic rent payments are calculated in amounts that are sufficient to amortize the debt payments to the Lenders, and sometimes to provide a cash return – referred to as “equity free cash” – for the Owner Participant.

(e) To provide collateral for the financing, the Owner Trust enters into a trust indenture or other security agreement (the “Indenture”), pursuant to which it grants a security interest in the aircraft and assigns the relevant Lease and recoveries thereunder to a trustee (the “Loan Trustee”) for the benefit of the Lenders. The Loan Trustee receives the lease rentals, deducts debt payments and any other amounts due to the Lenders or to the Loan Trustee itself, and distributes the excess (if any) to the Owner Trustee. The Indenture entitles the Loan Trustee to control the exercise of remedies upon the occurrence of an event of a default.

5. Leveraged lease transactions provide significant income tax benefits to Owner Participants. The Owner Trust is a “grantor trust” whose existence is ignored for income tax purposes. As a result, the Owner Participant in a leveraged lease transaction is entitled to take accelerated depreciation deductions based on the entire acquisition price of an aircraft. Those tax deductions are offset by taxable income that the Owner Participant must recognize over the life of the transaction, because rental payments (including the portion of the rental payments that are used to repay the outstanding principal amounts of the borrowed funds) must be treated as taxable income to the Owner Participant. However, the timing difference between the accelerated tax deductions and the offsetting taxable income that will be incurred upon the receipt of future rent payments is of significant benefit to the Owner Participant or to the consolidated tax group of which the Owner Participant is a member.

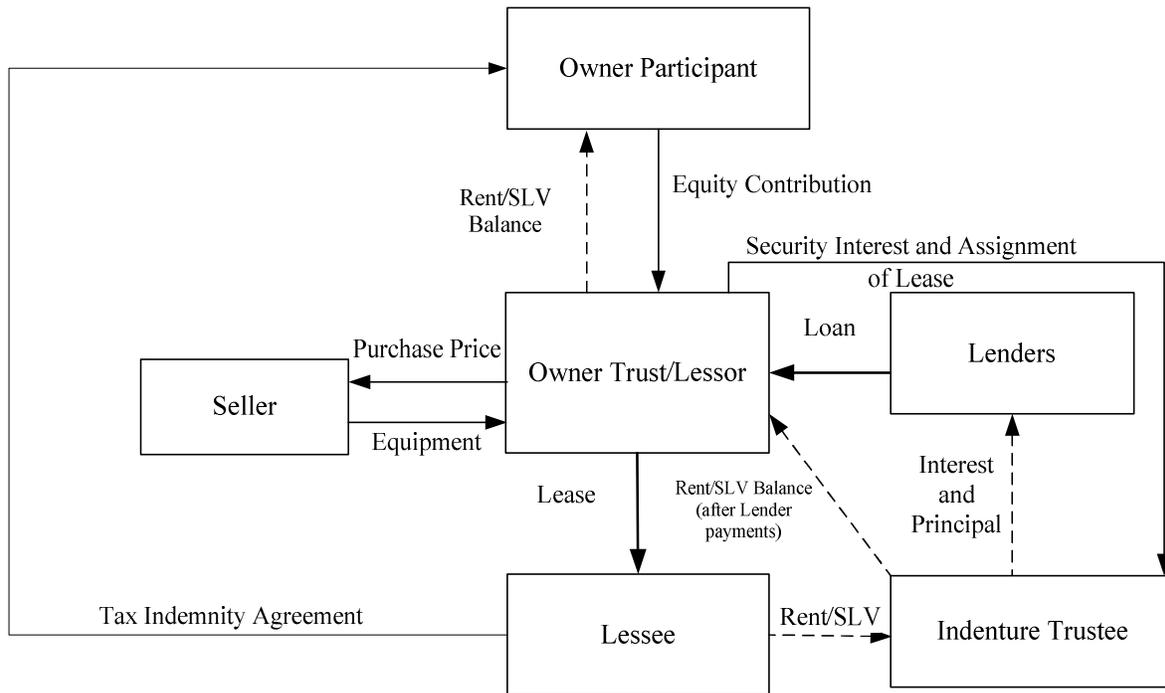

6. Leases in leveraged lease transactions typically provide for the recovery of a minimum “stipulated loss value” or “termination value” (“SLV”) as a result of the exercise of remedies following a default by the Lessee. SLV is determined by reference to a schedule attached to the Lease. SLV is an amount that declines over time and that is calculated (i) to permit the payoff of the remaining debt, (ii) to allow the Owner Participant to earn an agreed-upon return through the date of termination, and (iii) to compensate the Owner Participant for the adverse tax consequences of a foreclosure or other sale following a default. The amounts actually recovered through the sale or other disposition of an aircraft following a Lease default are deducted from SLV in determining the amount owed by the Lessee.

7. Lessees in leveraged lease transactions usually enter into Tax Indemnity Agreements (“TIAs”) with Owner Participants. TIAs differ significantly in the matters for which they provide coverage and the circumstances in which they apply. As a general matter, TIAs provide indemnification to an Owner Participant if the Owner Participant incurs a tax “Loss.” However, the definition of the types of tax consequences that qualify as a “Loss” differs from one TIA to another. TIAs also typically provide that an Owner Participant is only entitled to indemnity if a Loss results from certain particular, specified causes.

8. TIAs apply in many circumstances, including many instances in which SLV is recoverable. Since the SLV computations already include the amounts necessary to compensate Owner Participants for their tax losses, TIAs typically provide that no indemnity is owed under the TIA if SLV is payable, though the language of such exclusions differs significantly from one TIA to another. TIAs also typically specify other causes of “Losses” that are excluded from coverage and for which no indemnity is provided.

9. A diagram of a typical leveraged lease structure is set forth below:

Leveraged Leases

III. The Claims

10. The Claims were filed by Wilmington Trust Company, not in its individual capacity but as owner trustee (together, the “Claimant”), which is the Owner Trustee in the leveraged lease financing transactions relating to the Aircraft. The Claims are substantially identical to each other. The relevant portions of the operative documents that govern those Claims are substantially similar.

11. Each of the Claims asserts the following unliquidated amounts: (a) any amounts due and owing, or to become due and owing, under the Lease, including “Rent,” “Supplemental Rent” and/or “Termination Value,” (b) any other amounts payable by the Debtors under the “Operative Documents” to or for the benefit of the Claimant or the Owner Participant, including indemnification, premiums, interest, costs, expenses and attorney and professional fees and expenses and (c) any other amounts related to breach of provisions in the “Operative Documents.” Each of the Claims provides in paragraph 3 that the Owner Trustee and the Owner

Participant recognize that the Lease and all amounts due and payable thereunder have been assigned to the Indenture Trustee and that the Owner Trustee is submitting the Claims as a protective measure.

12. Each Claim is objectionable to the extent it seeks any payments or damages under the Lease for the reasons set forth in Part IV. The remainder of each Claim is objectionable for the reasons set forth in Part V.

IV. The Unliquidated Lease Claims Should Be Withdrawn or Disallowed and Expunged

A. The Claimant is Not the Party Entitled to Assert Claims Under the Lease.

13. The Claimant has no right to collect any amounts allegedly due and owing under the Leases. All rights to collect any payments due and owing under each Lease, including “Rent”, “Supplemental Rent” or “Termination Value,” were assigned to an Indenture Trustee, and such Indenture Trustee has entered into a settlement of claims allegedly due and owing under the related Lease with the Debtors. Set forth below are the allowed claims granted to the Indenture Trustees, or transferee of such Indenture Trustees, related to such Lease claims.

Claim Number	Aircraft FAA Registration Number	Allowed Lease Related Claim With Respect to Aircraft	Amount of Allowed Lease Related Claim With Respect to Aircraft
7088	N622AA	13027	$15,722,776
7090	N624AA	13028	$15,926,271

The Claimant therefore does not have the right to assert such Claims and each Claim should be disallowed and expunged to the extent that the Claimant seeks recovery of any amounts or other damages under or related to the Lease.

V. Objections to the Unliquidated Portions of the Claim

14. The Claims are also objectionable for the following reasons.

A. Claim is Unliquidated and Unsupported

15. The Claim seeks to recover (a) all amounts due and owing or to become due and owing under the Lease, (b) all damages for nonperformance under the “Operative Documents” and (c) all other amounts payable by the Debtors under the “Operative Documents” to or for the benefit of the Claimant or the Owner Participant, including indemnification, premiums, interest, costs, and fees and expenses, which claims are all unliquidated. Therefore, the Claim should be disallowed unless and until the amounts of such claims are specified and unless such amounts are determined to be proper.

16. Moreover, the claims sought by the Claimant are not supported by any information to verify that such claims (a) were actually incurred in connection with matters for which the Claimant is entitled to recover amounts, (b) were actually paid by Claimant, and (c) were reasonable and appropriate. Among other grounds, the Debtors object to the Claims pursuant to section 502(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c), which provides in pertinent part that “[w]hen a claim . . . is based on a writing, the original or duplicate shall be filed with the proof of claim.” The Claim should be disallowed and expunged to the extent that they seek recovery for costs, damages, fees and expenses unless such documentation is provided and unless such documentation demonstrates that such claims are valid and reasonable in amount.

B. Lease Payments and Obligations

17. The Claimant has no right to collect any amounts allegedly due and owing under the Lease. All rights to collect amounts due and owing under the Lease were assigned to the Indenture Trustee in connection with the transaction out of which the Claim arises. The Claim therefore should be expunged to the extent that it seeks such amounts.

C. Fees and Expenses

18. The Claims seek to recover fees and expenses incurred by the Claimant. Claimant contends that it is entitled to the reimbursement of such fees and expenses pursuant to the “Operative Documents,” but has not provided any additional information with respect to such claims.

19. The Claims seek fees and expenses but has not specified the actual amount of such fees and expenses that the Claimant seeks. The Claims for fees and expenses are therefore unliquidated and should be disallowed unless and until the amount of such claims are specified and unless such amounts are determined to be proper.

20. Moreover, the fees and expenses sought by the Claimant are not supported by any information to verify that such fees and expenses (a) were actually incurred in connection with matters for which the Claimant is entitled to recover fees and expenses, (b) were actually paid by Claimant, and (c) were reasonable and appropriate. Among other grounds, the Debtors object to the Claims pursuant to section 502(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c), which provides in pertinent part that “[w]hen a claim . . . is based on a writing, the original or duplicate shall be filed with the proof of claim.” The Claims should be disallowed and expunged to the extent that they seek recovery for fees and expenses unless such documentation is provided and unless such documentation demonstrates that the Claims for fees and expenses are valid and reasonable in amount.

21. In addition, the Claimant has asserted Claims with respect to multiple Aircraft. To the extent that Claimant contends that it is entitled to recover fees and expenses with respect to a number of separate transactions, the total of such claims cannot exceed the amount of fees and expenses that the Claimant actually has incurred. The Claims should be disallowed to the extent that they seek fees and expenses that are also covered by other claims filed by the same

Claimant, unless and to the extent that such fees and expenses are allocated proportionately among the claims or otherwise adjusted to prevent double-counting or excessive claims. General Indemnity

D. General Indemnity

22. The Claims also assert rights to recover amounts related to “indemnification obligations” under the “Operative Documents.”

23. The Claims do not identify the nature or amount of the “indemnification obligations” sought, the circumstances under which they were incurred or the manner in which the provisions of the documents provide coverage for such “indemnification obligations.” The Claims should be disallowed and expunged to the extent that they seek recovery of losses unless appropriate documentation is provided and unless such documentation demonstrates that these portions of the Claims are valid.

RESERVATIONS OF OTHER OBJECTIONS

24. The Debtors reserve all other objections to the Claims that they may have, including without limitation any further objection that becomes apparent in the course of discovery or in the course of litigating the foregoing objections.

WHEREFORE the Debtors respectfully request that the Claims be disallowed and expunged (to the extent not withdrawn by the Claimant); that, in the alternative, the Claims be reduced; and that the Court grant such other and further relief as may be just and proper.
